JUDGE BEATS
ALL OF THEM

This might be termed "gamblers' day" in the police court were it not for the fact that Judge Andrade won all of the games. In bunches or singly, heathen or Christian, Chin, Jap or Hindoo—the stern, little man on the bench played a lone hand, and played it well. It took the clerk fully a half hour after the results were announced to "make change." The financial results were as follows: Six Chinamen paid $9 each and (as though to reverse figures) Judge Andrade sentenced nine other Chinamen to pay $6 each. Five Japanese were fined $10 each and a mixed bunch of three also came down with $10 each. Andrade was then ahead of the game exactly $188.

A Grace, the colored porter at the Oahu railway depot, was before His Honor on the charge of riding a bicycle without light. Defendant pleaded guilty. The police claimed that Grace was an old offender at this particular business, so he was fined $5 and costs, which he promptly "dug up."

Lee Chet was fined $25 for larceny. He went into Tai Lung's store in Kewalo yesterday evening and while there pocketed a can of chicken valued at 40 cents. Ung Gee, another Chinese thief, was given sixty days on the reef. He was found guilty of stealing firewood from another Chinaman.

The Burns Handicap, won by King James as cabled Saturday, is the greatest classic race of the Californian racing season. It is usually worth in the neighborhood of $6,000 and the field of contestants for the rich prize always includes some of the best horses in the country. Last year the race was won by Montgomery. King James, this year's winner, was one of the best performers on the eastern tracks last year. He is owned by the Keenes and has been quietly backed for a long time past to win this race. Being a young horse he had to pack a light weight and it would not be surprising to learn that the race was run in the mud and that King James' light impost materially helped him to catch the judges' eye in a field of heavily weighted turf cranks.

GOES INTO INSURANCE

Harold G. Dillingham, for some time cashier of the Oahu R. & L. Co. is leaving that position to take a place in the insurance department of the B. F. Dillingham Company. His place as cashier of the railroad will be taken by Harry D. Cobb, now bookkeeper for the Honolulu Gas Company. Mr. Cobb's place will, in turn, be filled by Charles E. King, at present secretary of W. C. Peacock & Company.

These changes have nothing to do with the schedule of readjustment to be made in railroad offices under Superintendent Smith. For the present, at least, no successor to Mr. Smith will be appointed, although a promotion for "Jack" F. Doyle, now chief train dispatcher, in that quarter is by no means unlikely.
